Supply Chain Management

T.H.E.M.'s supply chain management resources help customers decrease costs and maximize efficiencies in virtually every stage of packaging system implementation, from installation to full-scale production.

With strong domestic and overseas alliances, we have expertise in acquiring, importing, and implementing state-of-the-art packaging technologies, sourced from an established global network.

We provide planning, vendor identification and equipment procurement, delivery of packaging materials and systems, installation and engineering, and manage the entire process from start-up to full-scale production.

We design and implement high-efficiency standard operating procedures, provide quality assurance, plus manage staffing and training. If required, T.H.E.M. can also support customers in the areas of warehousing, distribution, and inventory management systems.

Serving as an external turnkey resource, T.H.E.M. regularly accelerates the timeline to system implementation, resulting in a faster path to full-scale operation.
